What Did They Wear? Find Out at Historic Sully

Have you ever wondered about clothing from times past – why it was considered stylish, if it was comfortable, where did it come from? Come to Sully Historic Site on Tuesday, October 3, from 7-9pm, and find the answers to your questions. Mary Doering, private collector and researcher, will discuss women's Federal Period (1790-1820) clothing. Learn about imported versus domestic clothing, textile production, garment construction, and methods of advertising and procurement. After the lecture, examine original garments from Ms. Doering's collection. Reservations are required by September 29. The program is a Jamestown 2007 commemorative event sponsored by the Sully Foundation, Ltd. FREE

Sully Historic Site is located on Route 28 in Chantilly, VA. From the Beltway (495) take either I66 west to Rt. 28 North or the Dulles Toll Rd. to exit 9A (Rt. 28 South).
